Bowls

Our houses are often cluttered with useless things, objects that arrive and never leave ... presents that you don't like but one of your family does ... so that you have to keep them. Other things are just there and their uses are merely ornamental, so that you can be complimented. Ceramic bowls are just like that. They are the centrepieces of our tables that we seldom use. Often they are there just to remind us of the craftsman's abilities while their function is a mere option. The craftsman gives his best to make an object that is meant to contain but will never contain anything. So here come the decorations! Excesses of shapes, flowers, fruits, leaves ...

You better leave these bowls empty of everything. They will just be there to capture your sight and your pleasure and help you in reaching a state of grace. Beware those who fill them in.
